

Qx Extension – Beam

Illuminate the network and communicate your message with real-time visibility. Beam is a real time network monitoring console and advanced analytics platform for all video within the enterprise. Beam is a Qx extension, compatible with Qumu VCC 7.5 and above and available for deployment as a virtual machine. Beam monitors all VOD as well as live streaming video.

Key Features and Benefits

Insightful

Visualize and understand the audience experience. See end user locations and attendance in real time.

Immediate

Beam provides accurate, real-time information for both business leaders and operation teams.

In-Depth

Beam collects information on geolocation, network video delivery, viewers, and historical activity.

Proactive

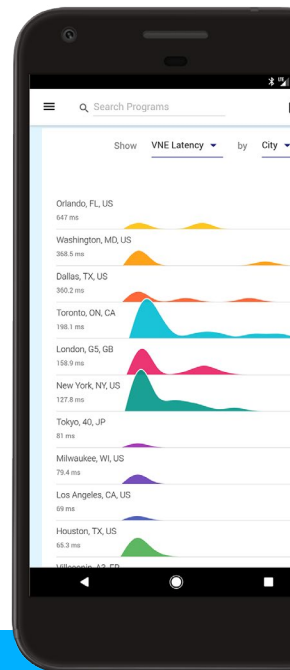

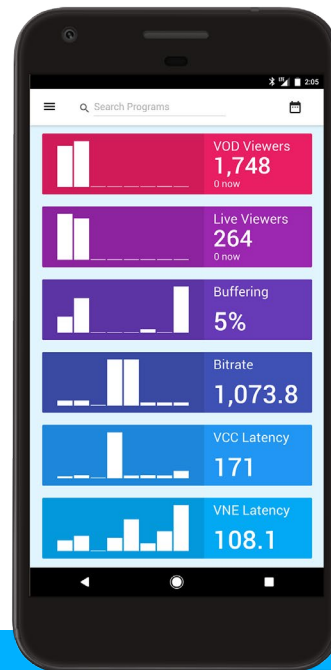

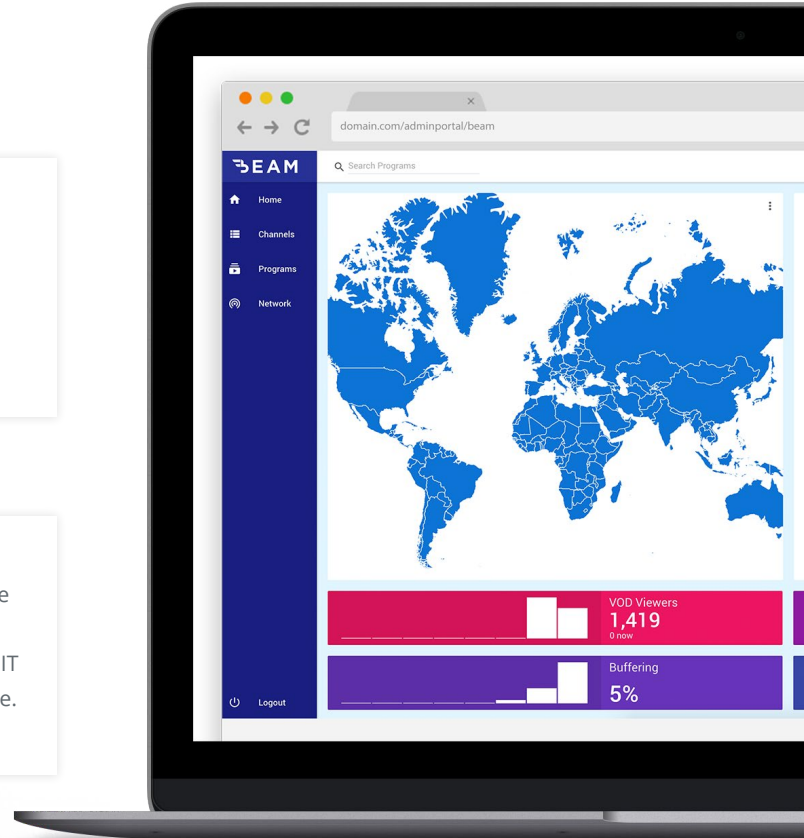

Deliver every video message successfully with complete network visibility. Optimize IT resources and infrastructure.

Comprehensive

Combine data to view any metric to provide rich information, including colorful, user friendly charts.

Aware

Beam incorporates real-time always on servers, to provide a constant awareness. Automatic monitoring.

Specifications

Beam

Supported Environments

Video Control Center
Version 7.595 or higher

Supported Browsers

The Beam interface is supported on the latest versions of Firefox, Internet Explorer, Edge, Chrome and Safari.

Server Requirements

Five server cluster
3 GHz dual core processors
8 GB RAM, 120 GB storage

Want to learn more? Contact us.